HORSES TORTURED.

Dashed Against Barbed Wire
Fence and Died.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, June 6.—Francis with terror at jumping the rails, which had been tied to their tails, two valuable horses belonging to Edward E. Smathers, the millionaire horseman, killed themselves yesterday morning by charging the barbed wire fence surrounding the pasture at Harrison, N. Y.

The horses had been turned out to feed. Sunday night, some unknown person tied a tin pall to the tail of each horse so that they would strike the heels of the horses every time they moved.

Racing and plunging and kicking in an effort to free themselves from the pain, the horses ran against the barbed wire fence, and time and again, then crazed from the cruel pain, they turned back and charged the fence, cutting on their legs and bodies, the horses raced about the pasture, but, turn where they would, they were dashed against the barbed wire fence.

Their course about the pasture could be seen yesterday by trails of blood. Evidently the horses continued to race all through the night until they dropped from exhaustion and loss of blood.

Mr. Smathers has offered a reward of $500 to any person who will furnish him with information as to who perpetrated the cruel joke.

NOT THE S. A. L.

George L. Carter Denies Statements That Were Current.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BRISTOL, TENN., June 6.—George L. Carter, who purchased the Clinchfield line, and who has been the subject of the Clinchfield Corporation, including the Toms Creek coal deposits and the South and Western Railway, has just given out an interview that changes what has been the accepted story of the financial backing of the project.

Mr. Carter denies that the Clinchfield Air Line has purchased the Clinchfield properties or that he has an arrangement with that road to make the proposed extension. He further denies the published reports that Eugene Zimmerman and the Clinchfield, Hamilton and Dayton Railway have any interest in the Clinchfield properties. He does not say who his financial backing is, but has said that the road will be built, and it is now purchasing supplies for construction work. The situation is puzzling.

To Resume Maybrick Case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—Justice Barnard, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, to-day sustained the contention of W. M. Maybrick, a lawyer, who declined to answer certain questions propounded to him as a witness in the case of Florence E. Maybrick, against David W. Armstrong, for the recovery of certain real estate in Virginia.

Notary Gail, the commissioner empowered to hear testimony to be used in the Chancery Court of Richmond, Va., will be resumed to-morrow.

TONKIN HARASSED BY BLACKMALLERS

Threats to Kidnap Child Renewed and Large Sum Demanded.

THE FATHER OFFERS $50,000

Strange Story of Millionaire
Merchant Whose Home Has Been Made Miserable.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
OSWEGO, N. Y., June 6.—One of the largest rewards ever offered by one man for the discovery and apprehension of a criminal is that of $50,000 for the scoundrel or gang of scoundrels who, for the past two years, have been making the lives of John Jay Tonkin, a millionaire merchant of this city; Mrs. Tonkin and their beautiful twelve-year-old daughter, Rosemond, miserable by threats of kidnapping the child unless they received the very sum of money now offered for their capture.

For months the servants of the Tonkin household have gone about armed. Never has the beautiful child been allowed out of the sight of persons able to protect her. The best private detectives of New York and other cities, the police in half a dozen towns, and the best unravelers of crime in the employ of the New York Central Railroad have been investigating, but the writer of the strange letters, who is the author of the strange letters.

BLACKMAILER AN ARTIST.
The blackmailer is an artist, or an artist is his confederate, for the letters are cleverly illustrated with heart-breaking graphic pictures of the kidnapping and possible killing of the child.

So terrified has Mrs. Tonkin become this month ago she removed with her little girl to New York, hoping thus to elude their mysterious persecutor. In vain. Within a week she received a letter telling her that the writer knew where she was and that unless a large sum of money was forthcoming, her child would be taken from her.

Surrounding herself and daughter with a cordon of detectives, the unhappy mother returned to Oswego, where she has remained ever since.

ORIGIN OF THE REWARD.
The incident which brought about the large offer of reward from Mr. Tonkin was the murder of little Cora Sweet, near this city, on last Sunday. She was on her way home from church, when she was dragged into a lonely stretch of woods and killed. The crime stirred the whole community, and it was feared that an attempt would be made to lynch the murderer. The death of little Cora, aroused Mr. and Mrs. Tonkin to a sense of the danger which threatened their own daughter, and they determined to stop upon Baker's Troughs, Dough Break Provers, Pans, and all other apparatus necessary to a first-class bakery. Sale positive.
